

FSH DECISION LETTER 2015 - 4

I am pleased to inform you that your work has now been accepted for publication in Families, Systems, and Health. Editors and reviewer enjoyed the topic - one which any patient can identify with - the parsimonious use of language, the increasingly funny and bizarre fantasies of the narrator. While Reviewer 2 found the poem somewhat superficial, the editors feel that the accompanying suggestions are more appropriate for an essay than a poem, and can be ignored. The poem addresses the universal phenomenon of frustration in the waiting room, and addresses it in a humorous yet pointed way.
